

EUROPEAN ACADEMY
OF CANCER SCIENCES

Teresa Riera Madurell is University full Professor of Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence. She is graduated in mathematics by the University of Barcelona (1974) and PhD in Computer Science by the University of the Basque Country (1981). She was professor in the Polytechnic University of Catalonia (UPC) (1974–1986) and, since 1986 in the University of the Balearic Islands (UIB). She was Research Associate in the University of California (Berkeley) (1981 and 1982), and Visiting Researcher in the Carnegie Mellon University (1989). She was director of the Business and Computer Sciences School (UIB) (1986–1990) and Associate Vice-Chancellor, UIB (1991–1994).

She has a long experience in science policy being responsible for research and innovation in both, the Parliament of the Balearic Islands (1989–1996) and the Congress (1996–2004) where she was the spokesperson of the Science and Technology Congress–Senate Committee, (1987–1996). She was also vice-president, and general rapporteur of the Science and Technology Committee in the NATO–Parliamentary Assembly.

As Member of the European Parliament (2004–2014), she was coordinator of S&D group in the Industry, Research and Energy (ITRE) Committee and rapporteur for Horizon 2020. She was also rapporteur for the FP7 Specific Programme “Cooperation”; for the legal framework for a European Research Infrastructure (ERI), and for the regulation on the Innovative Medicines Initiative 2 Joint Undertaking.

She has been Chair of the Expert Panel for the interim evaluation of the ICT components of Horizon 2020 of the European Commission. Currently she is advisor to the Alliance for Biomedical Research in Europe, member of the Scientific Council of the Health Research Institute of the Balearic Islands (IdISBA) and member of the Research, Innovation and Science Policy Experts (RISE) High Level Group of the European Commission.